

shutterstock - 72243970

Praying in the Thin Places

The Wisdom of the Celtic Saints

Carl McColman

Friday, October 19, 2018 7:00-9:00 pm

Saturday, October 20, 2018 9:00 am - 4:00 pm

Discover the prayer, poetry, folklore, and the mysticism of the Irish, Scottish and Welsh saints of old – and how their down-to-earth, lyrical, and hope-filled wisdom still speaks to us today. Celtic spirituality is filled with legends and lore of holy saints, miraculous wonder, and a lyrical appreciation of nature as the place where “God is not elsewhere”. Discover how this ancient spirituality can bring a deeper sense of God’s love and presence into every moment and corner of your life.

During our time together we’ll reflect on holy wells and thin places, pray with Saint Brigid, journey with Saint Brendan the Navigator to the end of the world, and explore distinctively Celtic ways of meeting God in nature.

Cost: $10 Friday Evening Only $40 Saturday Only (Lunch included)
$80 Both Days, Overnight Friday (Meals included)
$45 Both Days, Commuter (Saturday lunch included)

Registration for Praying in the Thin Places: The Wisdom of the Celtic Saints

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Overnight _____ Commuter _____ Amount enclosed _____

Friday Only _____ Saturday Only _____ Both Days _____

Return to: The Oratory: Center for Spirituality, P O Box 11586, Rock Hill, SC 29731.

oratorycenter@gmail.com